The Curriculum Council is working with the sector/systems to address concerns about the operation of the 20 hours of the community service program.

The Council will contract recently retired school administrators to visit a sample of Government and non-Government schools to discuss implementation processes and issues with the principal and other staff responsible for the community service program.

Visits will focus on identifying manageable practices and communicating these to all schools. Schools will be invited to comment on implementation issues and problems, positive outcomes and successes, engagement of students and the wider community, teacher and school workload and the communication of the program to students and parents.

The outcome of the review will be reported to schools later this year.
