School administrators and teachers may find the new document – Delivery of school courses and counselling – helpful. It provides general advice on pathways, course and unit selections, the implications of studying units from different stages in the same year, studying the same units in a different context, repeat units, availability of new WACE examinations, 2009 arrangements when there is a mixture of TEE and WACE examinations and more.

It is available at http://www.curriculum.wa.edu.au/Documents/2008_25297.pdf.
