The revised Engineering Studies syllabus has been reaccredited by Council for staged implementation with Year 11 students in 2009 and Year 12 students in 2010.

This follows extensive consultation with Engineering Studies teachers who provided detailed feedback on the structure and content of the course.

At its meeting on 25 June, Council noted the ongoing research in the areas of digital assessment (ARC project with ECU) for Engineering Studies (and other courses such as Applied Information Technology, Automotive Engineering and Technology and Building and Construction), including the potential use of e-portfolios or computer-based exams. A practical component to the external exam in 2010 may also be introduced.
